

Location WV31

This location is a sunken path. There are no obvious exposures but you can observe small slipped blocks and note the brash embedded in the path.

The brash is unlikely to react with dilute acid.

